MISSION

Chartered 1989, MORNINGSTAR PUBLICATIONS, INC. (Db: MorningStar Cultural Arts Group and MStarArts.org) is a 100% volunteer 501C.3 non-profit organization that entertains diverse audiences, promotes cultural arts education and health resources through unique and varied experiences, and provides these events free and open to the community. We engage in a wide array of charitable endeavors to help empower or enlighten the citizens of the coastal empire. Our programs are multi-generational and multi-cultural as we attempt to bridge gaps in communities to strengthen Savannah and the surrounding areas. We are listed with GuideStar Philanthropies and have been included in President Obama's Call to Service and the Daniel Pearl International Harmony Days sites. Tax deductible donations and in-kind service donations are appreciated.

MorningStar Cultural Arts Group since 1989 has:

- Provided unusual cultural events that otherwise might not travel to the area.
- Created opportunities for emerging and minority artists.
- Provided administrative and creative support for emerging non-profit charities
- Built coalitions between organizations and different Savannah communities.
- Created events in which diverse communities share in exploration of the arts.
- Provided BRCA cancer health resources, education, advocacy options.
- Created Cancer Answers television show for greater access to specialists.
- Targeted youth in fun programs for serious talks about cancer and STDs.
- Provided festivals, concerts, exhibits, performances, classes and workshops.
- Exposed secular populations to Jewish cultural arts through varied and unique educational shared experiences.
- Advanced entrepreneurial options for women in the arts.
- Encouraged multi-ethnic, multi-generational participation in programming.
- Encouraged entrepreneurship and a pride in the continued growth and possibilities of Savannah.
